THE STORYLINE

A young journalist comes into possession of some mysterious documents that lead him to the South of France. There he encounters the century-old tale of a (still) existing village in the French Pyrenees and its former parish priest who supposedly found an immense treasure. There are even rumours about the legendary Holy Grail itself.

Intrigued by this story, the journalist believes he has stumbled on »The Story of a Lifetime«. With the help of a 90-year old villager, he tries to get to the bottom of this strange tale.

Almost immediately he finds himself involved in the dangerous clash between two secret societies trying to benefit from this ancient mystery.

In the wrong hands, its inherent power could destroy the world as we know it.

It becomes more and more apparent to the journalist that this goes far beyond a good story. And that, furthermore, he has been playing an important role in the story itself from the very beginning, making the investigation of the mystery a search for his own true identity as well...

HISTORY

The Mystery of the little village Rennes-le-Château in the South of France and its priest Berenger Saunieré has been an inexhaustible source of inspiration for two or more generations of authors and researchers worldwide, resulting in hundreds of books and publications.

It's the story of the village priest Berenger Saunieré, who was told to have found an enormous treasure under his church. There, he left behind strange clues hinting to his secret. But until now no one has been able to solve the mystery. Legends speak of an ancient secret, a terrible secret, that the priest has hidden till his mysterious death in 1917.

Rennes-le-Château has everything that makes a great mystery: treasure, betrayal, forgery, forbidden love, unsolved murders, rituals and a secret believed so powerful that it could shake the roots of Christianity.
